Fire Brigade Parade 精華町消防団パレード

The Seika fire department recently received a special award, the “Matoi” from the Japan firefighting association. To celebrate, there will be a parade on Tuesday, March 20th starting at the Western side of Hosono station.

The “Matoi” is the highest honor the Seika fire department has ever received, and this is the first time a fire department in the Yamashiro region has won the award. The awards ceremony was held on Friday, February 23rd at the Japanese firefighting headquarters in Tokyo.

The parade will start at Seika Garden City at 10 a.m. before making it's way to the Seika town office. Then, at 10:30 a.m., the commemoration ceremony will be held on the second floor of the Seika town office.

Honey Ginger Jelly

① Sprinkle the gelatin into a tablespoon of water and let sit.

② Put the grated ginger in a heat resistant container, cover, and heat in a 500 watt microwave for 1 minute.

③ Add the honey to the ginger and stir.

④ Put the 140ml of water and sugar in a pot and heat over a flame. Once the sugar melts, add the mixed honey and ginger, bring to a boil, then remove from heat.

⑤ Add the gelatin and mix in till it melts, then run water over it. After the jelly has cooled, put it in a refrigerator until it cools and solidifies.

⑥ Remove from the bowl, add honey to flavor and enjoy.

Ingredients-
(2 servings)

Grated ginger.....3g
Honey.....1 tsp
Gelatin powder 1 tsp
Sugar.....2tsp
Water.....140ml

Kyouson Kyouei

“Coexistence and coprosperity”

The number of foreigners living in Japan is on the rise, and from here on out both foreigners and Japanese will be going to school, working, and playing in Japan. But I think that Japanese and foreigners living together will, in the end, help both groups grow and prosper. This month's Yojjukugo, “Kyouson Kyouei” means “co-existence and co-prosperity.”

Note From the Editor へんしゅうしゃのことば

Now that it's finally March, I'm excited to be mostly done with winter, and ready to welcome spring. Though Kyoto winters aren't the coldest, they can certainly drag on. But now that spring is coming, I've decided to do something I've been putting off, travel!

Though I've been in Seika for a year and half now, I still have yet to get out of Kansai. So I'm resolving to try and see more of Japan while I can. Hiroshima, Nagoya, Hokkaido; there are all kinds of places I want to go, that are sure to show a completely different side of Japan. Hopefully all of you will be able to get out and travel as well!

Vernal Equinox Day

しゅんぶん ひ
春分の日March 20th

The Vernal Equinox marks the day when daytime and nighttime are exactly the same length. From this day on, daytime gradually grows longer and the nights become shorter. Many people consider Vernal Equinox Day the start of spring, and it is said that this is the day when “the chill of winter finally disappears.” It is also a time when many people pay respects to their ancestors, cleaning family graves and leaving offerings.

Cherry Blossom Viewing

はなみ
花見

At the end of March and the beginning of April, the entire landscape will turn pink as Japan's famous cherry trees bloom. During this time, many people gather with friends and family to picnic under the trees while looking at the beautiful sights of the blossoming sakura. The tradition, called hanami, makes for a great time, and if you want to try it yourself here's a list of some of the best places to go nearby.

Kyoto City- Kyoto is famous for having many places to view sakura, and two of the most famous are the Philosopher's Path and Maruyama park.

The Philosopher's Path connects the famous Nanzenji and Ginkakuji, and runs along a small canal, ensuring a beautiful setting to enjoy your nice stroll under the cherry trees. To get there, take the number 5 bus from Kyoto station to the Nanzenji-Eikando-michi stop.

Maruyama Park is a much more festive atmosphere, with food stalls and makeshift restaurants set up. The centerpiece is a giant weeping cherry tree, which is lit up at night. To get there, take the 100 or the 206 bus from Kyoto station and get off at the Gion stop.

Nara Prefecture- Nara has lovely hanami spots as well in Mount Yoshino, a mountain to the south of Nara city and Nara Park.

Mount Yoshino, with more than 30,000 cherry trees, is one of Japan's most famous Hanami spots, and great for someone looking to get a little hike and exercise along with their hanami. To get there, take the Kintetsu line from Shinhosono station to Yoshino Station.

Nara Park, famous for the deer that roam the area, also has a round 1700 cherry trees, and is great for relaxing picnic close to home. The park is just a 5-minute walk from the Kintetsu Nara station.

Seika- Seika has its own hanami spots, and if the crowds at the more famous destinations prove to be too much for you, relaxing at one in Seika can prove to be just as rewarding. The Keihanna Commemorative Park is one of the best known, but Takeuchi Shrine to the north of the Town Hall, and Kannonji Temple, just to the south of the Doshisha University Campus are both nice places to relax and enjoy the sights.

Ichigo's Aim

いちごの目的

Since the advent of Kansai Science City, the town of Seika, along with its foreign population, has been growing rapidly. In an effort to make the lives of foreign residents easier, the Seika Town Office produces this newsletter monthly. The newsletter's name, “Ichigo,” means strawberry, Seika's most famous product.
